

New Wireless File Transfer for NEO 2 Increases Writing Excitement

The NEO 2 laptop works seamlessly with documents in Google Docs, Google's document, spreadsheet, and presentation program.

Now, students can easily send documents back and forth wirelessly between NEO 2 and the Google Docs Web site. They can also save their NEO 2 work and continue working on it from a different NEO 2, or any other Web-enabled computer. This encourages collaboration and increases writing practice.

With NEO 2's connection to Google Docs, you can:

- Avoid computer lab bottlenecks. Students can use NEO 2s right in the classroom, then save their documents to Google Docs to retrieve later—during study hall, at home, anywhere!
- Easily generate assignments. Teachers can easily create assignments, send them to students' NEO 2s, and provide feedback.
- Easily track writing progress. Both students and teachers can see each draft of an assignment.
- Facilitate peer editing. Students can use both NEO 2 and Google Docs to provide feedback on classmates' writing.
- Keep students focused on writing. Students can access the powerful Web application without being exposed to non-productive Internet distractions.

Note: A Renaissance Receiver attached to an Internet-enabled computer is required to support all NEO 2 wireless functionality.
